Rev-Trac 5.0 awarded SAP Certified Integration as ABAP Add-on

Rev-Trac pre-eminence as wholly integrated change management solution for SAP R/3 underscored by successful SAP ABAP Add-on certification

Melbourne, Australia – October 20, 2003 – Revelation Software Concepts Pty Ltd. (RSC) today announced that RSC's change management product Rev-Trac version 5.0 has received SAP® certification for its integration with SAP R/3® 4.6. Rev-Trac's certification is in the newly created category of ABAP Add-ons.

Seamlessly integrated with SAP R/3, Rev-Trac intercepts all system changes, enforces consistent change management procedures, and allows for fully automated propagation of changes. By using Rev-Trac, companies save time and money by eliminating the risks and smoothing the process of managing and disseminating changes in SAP environments.

"In developing Rev-Trac 5.0, we have focused on building a powerful, flexible, and robust tool that addresses the day-to-day issues faced by business and technical users in managing changes in SAP systems," said David Drake, company founder and president. "Gaining ABAP Add-on certification requires a longer, more demanding technical process than the more common SAP interface certification via released RFCs and IDOCs. It demonstrates our deep commitment to developing the best and most effective SAP change management tool available."

For users of third-party software, SAP integration certification carries assurances of faster implementation and lower integration costs, fully tested integrations, and protection of both data integrity and existing investments in SAP solutions. Rev-Trac 5.0, now in pre-release, is being finalized as the platform on which future enhancements will be based. It is optimized for fast, easy upgrades, particularly for extensive SAP landscapes.

Convinced that changes to diverse SAP systems require superior, trusted change management methods and focused control tools, Drake founded RSC in 1997 to develop and publish Rev-Trac. By adhering to the philosophy of focused change management, RSC has made Rev-Trac the solution of choice for SAP users around the globe, including many Fortune 500 global enterprise leaders.
